Whether you are a first time buyer or an empty nester looking to downsize, there is a condo for you in Arlington. Condos range from simple studios to expansive penthouses with million dollar views and everything in between.

Early in my real estate career I decided to pick a niche to focus on and since I was looking for a condo for myself at the time, I decided to focus on the Arlington condo market. That was in early 2002 and since then there has been a lot of changes as the market and the economy went through some dramatic ups and downs.

There are almost 200 different condo developments in Arlington from small low rise garden style condos to soaring high rises. Trying to find just the right condo can be a daunting task.

I put this guide together as a starting point for your condo search, but it certainly doesn't replace having some expert guidance. Feel free to contact me to help in your condo search or if you have any condo related questions. If you already own a condo and are thinking of selling, let's talk — I can help you.
